Your Gateway to Innovation and Networking

Why sponsor or exhibit at the International Conference on Inorganic Membranes 2026?

The 18th Edition of the International Conference on Inorganic Membranes (ICIM) will be held in Montpellier, one of the most charming and dynamic cities in the south of France, from June 29th to July 3rd, 2026.

- With up to 350 participants, this conference brings together academia and industry to learn about the latest research and innovations in inorganic membranes, share ideas and best practices, and collaborate on future projects. It offers a unique multidisciplinary platform for researchers, engineers, students, industry professionals and officials to discuss global societal challenges and the opportunities offered by inorganic membranes.
- The conference will address both fundamental and applied research on inorganic membrane materials and processes, with the aim of promoting progress in their design, synthesis, advanced characterization, modelling/simulation, and industrial transfer. A wide range of applications will be targeted in key areas such as gas separation, water purification, solvent separation, fine and industrial chemistry, energy production, bio- and food-technologies as well as health and environmental protection.
- For the 2026 edition of the ICIM, a full day symposium will be dedicated to inorganic membranes for hydrogen-related applications. In addition, the overall scientific program will be aligned with the conference slogan, “INORGANIC MEMBRANES TODAY & KEYS FOR THE FUTURE”, with the aim of fostering networking opportunities and promoting the translation of research findings into concrete solutions for real-world applications. A special session will be dedicated to industry pitches, providing a platform for industry stakeholders to present their latest innovations, emerging challenges, and partnership opportunities.
- The conference will be co-chaired by Anne JULBE (CNRS IEM, Montpellier - France) and José SERRA (CSIC ITQ, Valencia - Spain) under the hospices of the ICIM International Scientific Committee.
- The conference language will be English.

- ICIM 2026 is an ideal opportunity to:
 1. Showcase your products & services: Promote your offerings to a targeted audience.
 2. Stand out from competitors: Align with cutting-edge research & innovation to distinguish your brand.
 3. Expand your client base: Prospect for new clients and build valuable connections.
 4. Present your latest innovations: Share advancements with the largest scientific community focused on inorganic membrane materials and systems.
 5. Meet bright students and attract new talents for future collaborations.

Partner with ICIM-18 to contribute to the Success of the Conference!
